

Name of Candidate:

Stacey Agbodza

Post Applied For:

SEN Teaching Assistant

Ability:

Theoretical Knowledge:

Good

Classroom Ability:

Unable to Comment

Behaviour Management:

Unable to Comment

SEN Support:

Unable to Comment

Motivation:

Willingness to Learn:

Very Good

Self-Organisation Skills:

Very Good

Contribution to Team:

Very Good

Punctuality:

Very Good

Attendance:

Very Good

Personality:

Performance Under Stress:

Very Good

Ability to Undertake Responsibility:

Very Good

Rapport and co-operation with:

Colleagues:

Very Good

Parents:

Unable to Comment

Children:

Unable to Comment

Overall Performance:

Stacey completed her BSc dissertation with me (Oct 2021 - March 2022). Her dissertation entitled "The Effects Of Race, Gender, And BMI On Body Size Perception In Healthy Populations". Stacey seemed reliable and friendly, a regular in our lab meetings. She was the only student in my group who has submitted her dissertation on time in year despite these challenging times. She is detail-oriented, was able to spot errors and discrepancies in the data, she was also able to perform complex data analysis in order to complete her research.

General Comments:

Were there any safeguarding concerns with this person while they were employed with you

No

If yes, please give details:

Has the candidate ever been subject to a disciplinary hearing?

No

If yes, please give details:

This reference is based on:

General Impression

Recommendation of Application for this Role:

Competent

Name of Referee:

Annie Chan

Position:

Lecturer in Psychology

Through which organisation (company) were you acquainted with the applicant?

Brunel University London

Date Worked with Applicant - Start Date:

8/10/2021

End Date:

30/3/2022

Relationship with Applicant:

Dissertation project supervision

Signature

<https://www.ltfrecruitment.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/wpforms/207657-89d9c6aa111c60493c13667727d11de9/signature-6284d475a31ab.png>

Today's Date:

18/05/2022